Edward Murray is a native of Augusta, Ga. who grew up in Columbia County and graduated from Lakeside High School. During his third year of college at Augusta State, he came to know the Lord and later served with Redemption Church (formerly the Well) making disciples and serving the city through gospel ministry. He now attends Reformed Theological Seminary in Charlotte, NC where he expects to finish the last year of his M. Div. He and his wife Brittany have one son, Mark, and are expecting their second come this fall.

For Reflection and Discussion:

1. Hebrews 3:13 says, "But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called 'today,' that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin." Why is deception so dangerous and scary?
2. Gideon was led astray by the deceitfulness of sin later in life. What are some temptations in your life that have the potential to lead you astray? What are some practical ways you can go about guarding yourself from those temptations and sin's deceitfulness?
3. What is the difference between legalism, licentiousness, and gospel-obedience? How is it that Paul can tell us in 1 Tim 4:16 to guard our lives and not be a legalist?
4. According to Heb 3:13, community and accountability is one of the best ways to guard yourself when you have become hardened and are living in sin. If someone were to confront you of your sin, would you be receptive or not? What can you do to grow in humility and better receive confrontation?
5. What are some examples of believers in the Bible whose sin greatly affected other people? What do you think we are to pull away from these texts?
6. Christ is our true and better judge who perfectly redeems and empowers us to finish well. Exactly how does the gospel help us to finish well?
